FAMILY OF FOUR LEFT HOMELESS AFTER FIRE

Late Fire Alarm Blamed for Loss

By BILL STAVDAL
(Herald Staff Reporter)

A 10-minute late fire alarm was blamed today for the total loss of a Penticton family's home near Mutch's Corner on Naramata Road late Sunday night.

Destitute and homeless is the family of Donald "Kirk" McLeod, a grocery clerk recently discharged from the RCAF.

Visiting friends when the fire broke out, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod and their two daughters, Ann, 18 months and Nonie, seven months, returned to find their house crumbling in flames.

The house, a pickers' cabin leased by E. C. "Bert" Spiller of the city works department, burst into flames shortly after 11:30 p.m. Mrs. Ernest Scott, a neighbor, spotted the fire and reported it to Mr. Spiller.

Mr. Spiller alerted the Penticton fire department, telling them "there might be a fire."

He then raced 600 feet to the cabin, forced open a padlocked door, and returned to summon fire engines.

BLAMES DELAY
Fire Chief Mervin Foreman today blamed the delay for the loss of the cabin. It was 20 minutes before first water hit the building.

Firemen had to lay 800 feet of hose to reach the home, by then burning furiously.

Ironically, McLeod joked about the fire moments before he heard his home was ablaze.

A member of the B.C. Dragoons Pipe Band, he had spent the evening practicing in Penticton while his wife Barbara and their children visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gale, 709 Municipal Avenue East.

McLeod stopped for coffee at the Gale's before taking his family home. Near midnight the phone rang.

"I suppose the house is burning down," joked McLeod.

His wife took the message, turned pale and told him it was washing stripped from a clothes line was the only goods saved.

WITH FAMILY
The McLeods stayed overnight with their in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gordon, Roy Avenue West.

Today they were looking for a home, and trying to round up a few household utensils. Mr. and Mrs. McLeod spent the morning sifting through the ashes of their home for a gold ring once owned by Mrs. McLeod's grandmother.

There was no sign of it.

Salvation Army and Social Welfare agencies moved in to aid the family.

'Fireworks' Expected at Council Session

Regular meeting of Penticton city council tonight is expected to produce more than the usual quota of verbal fireworks when Mayor C. E. Oliver will be called on to justify his action in suspending E. R. Gayfer, superintendent of works, last Tuesday.

The suspension followed a brief argument between the mayor and Mr. Gayfer at the last council meeting during which Mayor Oliver accused the superintendent of countering a recommendation from D. K. Penfold, consulting engineer. This was denied by Mr. Gayfer.

Aldermen, refused to be drawn into the issue, pointing out that council could not take any action unless there were a written recommendation from Mr. Penfold before them.

At the same time as he imposed Mr. Gayfer's suspension, for the third time in two years, Mayor Oliver wrote a letter to Ald. W. H. L. Whimster asking him to resign his council seat, following council's refusal to exempt E. C. Spiller, assistant superintendent, from the retirement policy recently adopted for city employees.

Eight Die in Rash of Fires

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More than a score of fires, scattered from Prince Rupert, B.C., to Val Morin, Que., took eight lives during the weekend and ran up a damage toll in demolished homes and wrecked factories that may reach $1,500,000.

Four children died at Toronto, three at Val Morin and one at Brantford, Ont.

Destroyed or damaged were two warehouses, 11 manufacturing and retail businesses, two barns, a private lodge for retarded children, 11 private homes and four apartments.

The four dead at Toronto included three children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Purdon—Charles Jr., 12, Muriel, 10, and Robert, 5. The fourth was William Syme, 5, a nephew of the children.

PATIENTS IN LODGE
The three children who perished at Val Morin were patients at Rowan Bank Lodge, a private retarded children's home 50 miles north of Montreal. They were Fernand Bouthillier, 12, Corrida Boucher, 9 and Samuel Clarke, 8.

At Brantford Alice Biggs, 50, was fatally burned when her clothing ignited as she apparently stuffed papers into a kitchen stove.

Education Hearing Set for City April 8

The Royal Commission on Education will hold its first hearings in Penticton on April 8.

Under the chairmanship of Dean S. N. F. Chant the commission will meet in the court house with the first session scheduled to open at 9:30 a.m.

Diefenbaker's Office Searched for Bomb

TELEPHONE WARNING PROVES FALSE

OTTAWA (CP)—A bomb scare brought RCMP officers today to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's offices in the Parliament Buildings. No bomb was found.

An unidentified woman phoned The Citizen, an Ottawa newspaper, at 12:15 p. m. saying:

"I have to tell you this quick. My husband has lost his job. He and two other men have put a bomb in the prime minister's office. It is set to go off in 15 minutes."

Mr. Diefenbaker spent the morning in his centre block office and in the cabinet room. The offices were not evacuated.

An RCMP spokesman from the criminal investigation branch said about a dozen men conducted "one quick sweep" of the premises and then engaged on a more detailed search.

PM'S RESIDENCE CHECKED
He said the prime minister's residence also will be "checked out."

A spokesman in Mr. Diefenbaker's office said work continued while the search was conducted both in the prime minister's centre and East Block offices.

The switchboard operator took note of the call because the woman was "excited."

The operator quoted the woman as saying:

"I have to tell you something. Give me a reporter quick." The Citizen promptly warned the RCMP and the prime minister's staff.

Russian Students Invited to Attend British Universities

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan today received a warm welcome at Moscow's spectacular skyscraper university and made a bid to bypass the Iron Curtain by inviting Russian students to attend British universities.

"We would like to see more students from the Soviet Union— you will be very welcome," Macmillan said. "I hope there may be an interchange and students from Britain will come to complete their work with you."

Russian students shouted excited greetings as the British leader and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd drove up to the main entrance of the 28-storey university which towers over the Moscow skyline.

In a 35-minute tour, Macmillan made two speeches to students, dodged in and out of six elevators on various floors in the main skyscraper block and was dogged by a jostling mass of reporters and photographers.

Turncoat British Diplomat Asks to See Ailing Mother

LONDON (Reuters) — Headlined reports today that turncoat British diplomat Guy Burgess wants to come home from Moscow to see his ailing mother caused a diplomatic flurry.

British correspondents said Burgess told them Sunday he is seeking a "safe conduct" pass from the British government to return to London for about a month.

Silver Dart Replica Cracks Up in Landing

By SANDY CAMPBELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BADDECK, N.S. (CP)—A replica of the Silver Dart, which 50 years ago became the first powered plane flown in the Commonwealth by a British subject, cracked up in landing here today after a one-minute anniversary flight.

The pilot, Wing Cmdr. Paul Hartman, walked away unhurt.

Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, who piloted the original Dart, watched as the plane tipped over on her port wing.

Wing Cmdr. Hartman said he was not prepared to land when the big wind gust slowed him down.

"I am very disappointed," he said.

The entire flight, brief as it was, "was extremely rough," he said. He ran into a series of air pockets flying at about 40 feet.

He said one pocket lifted him to a height of 60 feet.

CROWD HAMPERED PILOT
He said he couldn't bring the Dart into the wind for fear of flying into the crowd, estimated at 10,000.

The Dart's undercarriage also was damaged.

The wind caught the flimsy biplane and swept her violently off the ice of Baddeck Bay. Hartman appeared to have the Dart under control and was levelling off when one wing dipped and caught the ice surface.

The lower part of the left wing crumpled and the tricycle landing gear appeared twisted.

It was 50 years ago today—Feb. 23, 1909—that Mr. McCurdy became the first British subject to achieve powered flight in the Commonwealth.

Mr. McCurdy, a native of Baddeck, piloted the Silver Dart for half a mile from his takeoff point on frozen Baddeck Bay.

Cyprus Plan Calls For Military Pact

LONDON (Reuters)—The London agreement on Cyprus independence requires the island republic to sign a military alliance with Greece and Turkey, it was announced tonight.

A 15-page British statement gives the first official details of the independence agreement reached Thursday.

No Gov't Decision Yet On Coast Missile Site

OTTAWA (CP) — The defence department is already thinking of a "possible" replacement for the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile, reliable informants said today.

Current plans call for installation of two Bomarc bases in Canada in late 1961 but, the informants said, these plans may be changed if a better anti-aircraft missile is developed.

They said this could well happen in view of the rapid strides being made in the field of missiles. Any new development presumably would be American.

The Bomarc scheduled to go into service in Canada is the second version of the missile and it has not yet been fully developed. It is designed to have a range of some 400 miles and to be capable of being fired in less than two minutes.

A Bomarc fired recently in the United States hit its target accurately but the range was only some 75 miles and it took 6½ hours to launch it.

NONE BOUGHT YET
The Canadian government has not yet bought any Bomarcs, which are manufactured by Boeing Airplane Company of Seattle, Wash. It has earmarked $10,000,000 for the Bomarc program in 1959-60 fiscal year but this money will be used for development of the sites in Ontario and Quebec.

It is understood that current plans call for the two sites to be located in the vicinity of North Bay, Ont., and Mont Laurier, Que. The sites would cover about 100 acres each and be capable of launching a total of 112 Bomarcs at one time. Reloading, it is understood, requires a matter of hours.

This is one reason why the RCAF wanted the Arrow jet interceptor, junked Friday by the government.

PLANS UNDER STUDY
The defence department now is studying the possibility of:

1. Construction of more anti-aircraft missile sites. The west coast now is defended by one CF-100 jet interceptor squadron based at Comox, B.C., but no plan has yet been announced to locate a missile station on the Pacific coast.

2. Limited purchase of some type of American interceptor for the RCAF.

3. Basing in Canada of more American interceptor squadrons. The last appears unlikely at least until the U.S. has developed the supersonic F-108 for Arctic patrol duty.

Bomarc stands for Boeing Airplane Company and the University of Michigan Aeronautical Research Centre which developed the missile jointly.

background of the case.

It appeared to be a question of whether the B.C. legislation repealed the Lord's Day Act, in which case the provincial measures would be invalid, or whether the B.C. legislation was within limits purposely permitted by the federal act. In the latter case, the provincial legislation would be valid, Mr. Justice Locke suggested.

Mr. Brewin was not prepared to concede it was that simple. He argued that the B.C. legislation deals directly with criminal law and therefore invades a field exclusively federal.

The main contention of the Lord's Day Alliance is that provisions of the Lord's Day Act constitute criminal law and therefore come exclusively under federal government jurisdiction.

Those who hold that the legislation is within provincial jurisdiction are the attorney-general of B.C., the city of Vancouver and Vancouver Mounties Holdings Limited. The Ontario attorney-general and the federal justice department support them.

The legislation introduced in the B.C. legislature Feb. 6, 1958, was referred to the B.C. Court of Appeal for a ruling on its validity. In May, 1958, the court upheld the legislation's validity by a decision of 3 to 2.

SOME ROUGH GOING
Toronto Lawyer F. A. Brewin, counsel for the Lord's Day Alliance, had some rough going at times from one or two of the supreme court's nine justices as he opened his argument.

Mr. Justice C. H. Locke said "the whole point is very narrow" after Mr. Brewin had laid out the

DOCTOR INSPIRED BY MINE ACCIDENT

New Breathing Device for Injured

SASKATOON (CP) — Inspired last year by an accident in a potash mine, Dr. Morris Brook of Saskatoon has invented a device for use when an unconscious person has stopped breathing and needs speedy resuscitation.

Dr. Brook said the accident in which several men were injured impressed him with the need for an "airway" that could be used quickly to get air into a victim's lungs.

Many persons involved in accidents die not from injuries but from lack of oxygen caused when their tongue falls back, blocking their breathing, he explained.

"Expensive equipment is no help unless it is available in those first vital three minutes," he said.

His airway is simple and can be used effectively by a child. Placed in the victim's mouth, it prevents his tongue from falling back. The airway opening lies directly above the entrance to the lungs. A mouth guard prevents air blown through the tube from escaping.

The glass glowing tube used by the rescuer has a one-way valve which allows air to be blown into the victim's lungs but does not allow expired air to come back at the rescuer.

A hand suction tube can be used to clear mucus or water from the victim's throat while air is being blown into his lungs.

The first models produced here are being used by potash miners, who wear them as part of their equipment.

OPPOSITION MEMBERS TO ACT

Special Debate on Arrow Jet Sought

OTTAWA (CP) — A special debate on the government's decision to scrap the Arrow will be sought in the House of Commons today by opposition members. It is likely that the Liberals will raise the question, Opposition Leader Pearson said Sunday night. And CCF House Leader Hazen Argue said that if the Liberals do not seek the debate, he will.

The attempt would be in the form of a motion to suspend normal House business in favor of a matter of urgent public importance. Mr. Argue said that in his motion, the matter of public importance would be the unemployment caused by the government's decision.

Shortly after Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced cancellation of the jet interceptor Friday, A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited immediately dismissed nearly 14,000 employees who had been working on the supersonic plane.

So far in the current parliamentary session which began Jan. 15, there have been three opposition bids for special debates, but Speaker Roland Michener ruled them all out of order.

LESTER PEARSON
... to raise the question

One such motion sought an emergency debate on the Maritimes coal industry. Another sought an unemployment debate, and a third called for House discussion of the CPR decision — since reversed — to suspend ferry service between Victoria and the B.C. mainland.

Mr. Argue, in a statement issued Saturday outside the House, gave an indication of the stand the CCF group would take in an Arrow debate.

FOUR-POINT PROGRAM

His statement called for immediate government action on four points:

1. A conference of government, company and union representatives to discuss unemployment caused by the cancellation.
2. Provision of alternative employment opportunities for highly skilled Avro technicians.
3. A study of the possibility of developing the Canadian civil aircraft industry to "utilize the facilities that have been built at such costs."
4. Canadian insistence "on an increased share in the production of materials required for an integrated program of national defence."

Canadian insistence "on an increased share in the production of materials required for an integrated program of national defence."

He added: "It has now become clear that the government has made no advance preparation to deal with the serious economic consequences of its decision."

"Worse than that, the government seems prepared to stand idly by while the aircraft workers are thrown unceremoniously into the street. This is insupportable."

Mr. Argue said that in the months the government had to make its decision on the Arrow, it could have developed alternative employment plans to be announced at the same time.

"But I fear it merely stumbled blindly to the brink of its fateful decision," he said.

Melbourne Church Leaders Praise Graham's Crusade

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters) — Melbourne church leaders today praised American evangelist Billy Graham for his crusade here.

Since last Friday night more than 125,000 persons have heard Graham preach at three public meetings.

The Anglican Archbishop of Melbourne, Dr. F. Woods, said Graham had made a good impression on the clergy. "This is going to produce a great forward movement in the churches, and it is our duty to conserve the results of Graham's work," he said.

Re-Enactment of Silver Dart Flight Set for Today

By SANDY CAMPBELL

Canadian Press Staff Writer
BADDECK, N.S. (CP) — The pages of Canadian aviation history were to be turned back to Feb. 23, 1909, today at ceremonies honoring the first Canadian to fly a powered aircraft in the British Commonwealth.

Fifty years ago Baddeck native J. A. D. McCurdy piloted the Silver Dart for a half-mile from his takeoff point on frozen Baddeck Bay. Today, a replica of that early craft was to take to the air from the same bay.

Mr. McCurdy, 72, arrived here from his Montreal home Saturday in time to watch the final test flight of the Silver Dart replica built by the RCAF. The original was wrecked in a crash a few months after the 1909 flight.

The program called for Mr. McCurdy to speak briefly before the flight at 11:32 a.m. AST (8:32 a.m. MST). He was to be introduced by Premier Stanfield of Nova Scotia.

Lieutenant-Governor E. C. How was to take the salute from the official platform. A crowd of 10,000 was expected.

The weatherman promised fine weather with a few cloudy intervals. The committee handling the elaborate celebrations planned an alternate indoor program in case of bad weather.

Seventeen members of the air industries and transport association arrived in Sydney by chartered plane Sunday. They were to travel the 50 miles here by bus early today.

Among the group, which represents all branches of Canadian aviation, was Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, vice-chairman of the board of directors of A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited.

RE-ENACT SCENE
The Victoria County drama society added realism with a tableau of the scene as it was on the historic day 50 years ago.

Society members appeared in turn-of-the-century costumes. The 1909 flight was the culmination of the dreams of five men who founded the aerial experiment association here in 1907.

Mr. McCurdy is the only surviving member of the association set up by famed inventor Alexander Graham Bell.

Other members were F. W. (Casey) Baldwin of Toronto, Glenn Curtiss of Hammondsport, N.Y., and Lieut. Thomas Selfridge of the United States Army.

Baldwin soloed at Hammondsport March 12, 1908, to become the first Canadian to fly. Mr. McCurdy made his first flight a couple of months later, also at Hammondsport, where the association had set up shop in Curtiss' motorcycle-engine factory.

The Silver Dart was built and flown at Hammondsport in 1908. It was taken apart and brought here for the historic flight.

The replica was built by the RCAF at Trenton, Ont. It is a faithful copy of the original, aside from a few minor details and a modern 65-horsepower engine.

The original was powered by a motor rated at 40 horsepower.

Mr. McCurdy was given a testimonial dinner by townspeople here Saturday night. He was presented with a scroll bearing the tribute of people who once re-

NEPALESE ELECTION

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — The first result of Nepal's elections, announced Sunday, was a victory for a congress candidate over a Communist and other left-wing rivals. The state radio announced Kashinath Gautam had been elected in the west Nepal constituency.

Congress Asked To Okay Curbing Of Oil Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked today to authorize the curbing of oil imports for the protection of the United States. Democratic Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming sponsored a bill calling for mandatory restrictions on oil imports with quotas based on the capacities of importing domestic inland and coastal refineries.

The bill also would set a limit on residual oil brought in for use as fuel.

O'Mahoney said the bill would "encourage that vigorous development in the domestic oil and coal industries" necessary to keep the U.S. strong.

REVENUE DEMANDS

There are three demands for the legislation, O'Mahoney said. 1. The turbulent state of the world "which requires that the United States preserve its capacity to produce oil and coal so that, in case of war, we may not find ourselves cut off from our supplies of these vital products."

2. The declining state of our oil and coal industries "which must not be flooded out by imports from other lands but must be stimulated so they can furnish revenue to the United States in this time of great need for national income."

3. "The less obvious but equally important fact that the regulation of the commerce of the United States is not an executive function but a legislative one, which the Congress is constitutionally bound to perform, instead of delegating it away to be performed behind closed doors by anonymous appointees in the executive department."

The proposed control program would be administered by an oil import administration in the interior department.

British Release 900 Cypriot Prisoners

By ALEX EFTY
NICOSIA (AP) — Greek Cypriots celebrated Sunday as the British turned loose more than 900 political prisoners. Two incidents marred the jubilation.

The detainees had been held without trial under emergency regulations as suspected members of Eoka, the Greek Cypriot underground which has been waging a terrorist campaign against the British since 1955.

The government announced all detention camps on the island were being closed and emergency regulations lifted. The action had been assured by the agreement in London Thursday to give Cyprus independence, but the release of the prisoners came sooner than expected.

MANY SOON RELEASED
Hundreds of other Cypriots imprisoned after conviction of violating the emergency regulations were not affected by the first amnesty. But many of these are expected to get reduced terms or release soon.

A stream of buses, jammed with detainees and with some riding on the roofs, headed for Nicosia. The detainees banged on the sides of the buses, shouting "long live Makarios" and "long live Eoka."

British troops living in tents along the routes to the capital waved at those in the buses. Weeping relatives embraced the detainees at Nicosia's Phanomeni cathedral, where a thanksgiving service was held. The detainees later were taken to their homes throughout the island. Local celebrations went on far into the night.

DETAINEES STONED

In the only serious incident reported, a crowd of Turkish Cypriots in Pergamos village stoned a convoy of detainees and their families. A seven-year-old Greek boy suffered a severe head wound.

The religious leader of the Turkish Cypriots, Mufi Danu, immediately expressed deep sorrow over the incident. Greek Cypriot Bishop Anthimos said he was "sure this is the work of irresponsible elements—it should not be allowed to shake the good relations of the two Cyprus communities following the Zurich-London agreements."

25 Lives Lost In Accidents

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Twenty-five persons lost their lives in weekend accidents across the country, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

Ontario led the other provinces with 13 deaths, seven in traffic. Quebec had seven, two in highway mishaps. Two of British Columbia's three fatalities were in traffic. There were single traffic deaths in Saskatchewan and New Brunswick.

There was also a drowning in B.C. and five deaths by fire in Ontario — four of them children. An 18-year-old Ontario boy also was killed by an accidental shotgun blast during a rabbit hunt.

There were three deaths by fire in Quebec, one fatality attributed to an explosion and one person was killed by a train.

The survey covered the period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Sunday.

YOUNG PEOPLE WELCOME NATIONAL CHAPLAIN

Report Criticized By Growers Group

Penticton local of the Okanagan Kootenay Growers' Association held a well attended meeting during the weekend with George Morrison, president, in the chair and A. T. Blech of Oliver, secretary of the parent organization, also present.

Membership of the new organization is rapidly growing and showing a balanced proportion of large and small growers, it was stated.

In discussion of the MacPhee Report, real anxiety was expressed on what the future holds for the five to ten-acre growers who predominate in the fruit growing industry. Result of the report is to decrease the value of their holdings with no alternative suggested, the meeting felt.

Regarding the three-party contract it was felt by the members that nothing is to be gained by signing. The grower is already under compulsion and has no control whatever over the disposal of his fruit. Signing the contract would be only endorsing the formulation of further compulsory legislation without consulting the grower.

Thought of the members was that ballot voting, which they do not now enjoy, would give the growers greater participation in their own organization.

Theft Could Have Led to Traffic Tragedy

A small weekend theft in the Penticton area could have led to a traffic tragedy, RCMP warned today.

Radium Construction Co., engaged in reconstruction of the Kruger Hill-Kaleden section of Highway 97, reported the theft of one of their "caution" signs erected to warn motorists that there was danger around the corner.

"The theft could have brought serious trouble or injury to some motorist," a police officer said.

Turkey Featured at Legion Scout Banquet

Turkey with all the trimmings was the main item on the agenda during the weekend when the Eighth Penticton (Legion) Cub Pack and Scout Troop held their second annual Father and Son banquet in the Legion Alexander room.

The toast to the fathers was proposed by Roger Hunting. The reply for the fathers was given by Roy Hoson, president of Branch 40 Canadian Legion.

J. B. Laidlaw, district scout commissioner spoke briefly about the life of Lord Baden-Powell.

Guest speaker was Carleton McNaughton, owner and operator of the Grey Sage Museum, Vaseaux Lake, who is also district Scoutmaster at Oliver.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the 8th Cub Pack and Scout Troop, under the able direction of the president, Mrs. Joyce Keelley.

Soprano Delights Oliver Audience

OLIVER — Marguerite Gignac, soprano, delighted a capacity audience in the Southern Okanagan High School Auditorium Friday evening, in a concert presented by the Okanagan Border Overture Concert Association.

It was the third of a series of four concerts.

Miss Gignac chose as her selections operatic arias and some well known ballads. The ballads were particularly well received.

Walter Buczniski, also a native Canadian, accompanied Miss Gignac at the piano and in the course of the evening entertained with two piano numbers.

After the concert the executive entertained the artists and a few friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Corbishley.

The fourth and final concert of this series will be held on May 12, when the Overture Concert Association will present Stecher and Horowitz, duo pianists.

First Education Week "Open House" Thursday

Princess Margaret School in Penticton begins its Education Week events a few days early.

The elementary - Junior high school is inviting all parents to become students this Thursday, Feb. 26th when the school holds an open house. This invitation has been sent to all parents by the principal, Reginald B. Cox, in the form of a newsletter.

Parents are invited to become students again for an evening, to sit in the seats of their sons and daughters occupy during the day and to hear from the teachers what they are trying to do in the important and interesting field of education.

Education Week is from March 1 to 7 but the regular P-TA meeting was scheduled for Feb. 26th and it was decided to hold Open House at the same time.

BELL AT 7:30 P.M.

The school bell will ring for parents at 7:30 p.m. sharp. For about an hour thereafter parents will follow by means of 10-minute periods, the program which their child in the junior high follows on a regular school day. Parents will follow their child's Day Seven timetable.

As parents pass from class to class each teacher will explain briefly what is being done in the subject he or she teaches. Finally in period Six the home-room study period, parents will have an opportunity to examine the exercise books their boy or girl is using.

In the Elementary section a similar program will be followed. Here parents will be with one teacher for the full time. Here also parents will have an opportunity to see the organization of a typical school day and to examine the work their children are doing.

BAKE SALE EVENT

A bake sale will be held by the P-TA's membership on the evening of the "Open House" with funds being used to help entertain the honor club members in June and to assist the school in its June awards. Funds raised will also be used to send a delegate to the P-TA Convention.

All schools in School District 15 (Penticton) will be holding Education week events. Their dates and time will be announced later.

GRATIFYING RESPONSE TO TREE PLANTING PROGRAM

OLIVER — Village officials say they are highly gratified at the interest shown by village residents in the tree planting program.

Council last fall set aside $1,000 for purchase of shade trees to be planted in accordance with a prepared plan designed to make the village streets more attractive.

Residents were asked to make application for the number of trees required to take care of the frontage of their respective properties.

The village has undertaken to supply and plant the trees and the only responsibility of the property owner will be to look after them.

Benefits of Tree Planting Outlined

SUMMERLAND — Looking towards spring planting, Alex Watt spoke at Friday evening's meeting of the Horticultural Society on ornamental trees and their uses when planted for beauty, screening, shade, privacy, shelter, background and to attract birds. All of these uses may be considered landscaping, Mr. Watt said.

He mentioned the trees suitable to this district and the types of soil preferred for best results. A mimeographed copy of the list of trees will be available at Mr. Watt's district horticulturist's office, at West Summerland, for those who would like to refer to it.

Mr. Watt mentioned books obtainable for help in choosing and planting trees.

POTTED PLANT EXCHANGE

The president, Mrs. E. C. Bingham, asked members to bring cuttings of potted plants to the next meeting for exchange. These cuttings are to be planted and brought back to the November meeting for display. Mrs. Bingham asked also for books and magazines to be brought for exchange among members.

In the parlour show potted bulbs class, Miss Doreen Tait placed first with a beautiful array of daffodils. In the miniature arrangement class, Mrs. E. C. Bingham was first and Miss Doreen Tait, second.

Mrs. Bingham was winner in total points for the year's parlor shows; Mrs. Alex Inch, second; and Miss Doreen Tait, third.

Refreshments were served, convened by Mrs. Lew Wright.

Mass Initiation Slated for Legion Branch at Kelowna

KELOWNA — The local branch of the Canadian Legion is planning a mass initiation of 47 new members at the next general meeting tomorrow.

The meeting, first one for the 1959 executive, will feature discussions on membership problems in line with the policy of the veterans' organization to increase the number of veterans taking an active part in Legion affairs.

President Percy Maundrell will chair the meeting. A delegation of invited guests from Enderby's branch No. 98 are expected to attend.

Rev. R. S. Leitch, who recently lauded the Legion for their work with the community's youth, will officiate at the initiation ceremony.

Pentictonites Impressed by Merritt Arena

Pentictonites attending official opening ceremonies during the weekend for the $200,000 Nicola Valley Memorial Arena at Merritt, were much impressed with the size and quality of this recreational centre, a tribute to concerted community effort.

The arena was officially opened by Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi Saturday, before a crowd of some 1,600 people.

Other speakers were Allan Collett, chairman of the Merritt village commission, and Ken Tory, the builder.

Greetings and congratulations were also read from Mayor C. E. Oliver of Penticton and Penticton Board of Trade.

Following the opening ceremonies there was a hockey game, faced off by Nicola oldtimer Dr. J. J. Gillis, in which a Vernon team defeated the Kamloops Rockets.

Skaters from Glengary Figure Skating Club of Penticton provided the balance of the entertainment, receiving a big ovation at every performance.

The new arena, designed by Kasten-Lensworth, architects, of Edmonton, has an ice surface measuring 188 by 80 feet. There is seating capacity for 1,000 persons with standing room for another 600.

Facilities also include two coffee bars, and three dressing rooms complete with showers.

A special feature is a heated, glass fronted view lounge, the full width of the building and 50 feet deep.

CCF Warns of Strike Leading To Civil War

NEW LISKEARD, Ont. (CP) — Arnold Peters, CCF member of Parliament for Timiskaming, said Sunday night the Newfoundland woodworkers' strike will lead to civil war if anything will.

Speaking at a CCF provincial nominating meeting, he said Newfoundland loggers are working 60 hours a week for $1.05 an hour, and working under conditions not seen in Ontario for some time.

In calling for negotiations between the Newfoundland government and the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.O.A.) to settle the strike now nearing the end of its eighth week,

Entries Open For Teenagers' Rodeo in April

Penticton youths will be among an estimated 25,000 Canadian drivers who will compete for scholarships totalling $1,750 and other prizes in the Jaycees' National Teen-Age Safe Drive Rodeo this year.

Competitions will begin in more than 200 communities across Canada in April and will end with the national finals at Galt, Ont., July 10 to 12.

David Adair is the Penticton Jaycees' chairman for the local competitions, which are tentatively slated for April 25 or 26. Entries are now invited and can be sent to Mr. Adair at Box 510, Penticton.

Teenagers are designed to give teenagers the opportunity to prove and improve their driving habits and attitudes. Since 1956 more than 60,000 Canadian teenagers have participated.

FIVE-PART TEST

In the local competitions teenagers take written tests on traffic knowledge and a five-part test of driving skill. Anyone under 20 may enter if he has a driver's licence and has been free of a moving traffic violation in the preceding six months.

Winners of the community contests advance to the provincial finals during June. Imperial Oil pays expenses and provides prizes and trophies.

From the provincial meets the 12 top teen-age drivers from different areas of Canada will travel to Galt, Ontario for the national finals. These are sponsored by the All Canada Insurance Federation.

Contestants at Galt will take three days of tough driving tests, written quizzes and psycho-physical examinations. The three national winners receive scholarships of $1,000, $500 and $250 respectively.

Victoria Critic Lauds "Pygmalion"

"Excellent theatre" was the term used to describe Canadian Players' production of "Pygmalion" in Vancouver last week.

Drama critic Stanley Bligh gave the nod of approval to George Bernard Shaw's story of the Cockney flower girl who becomes a lady of rank by learning to speak like one.

HERE THURSDAY

The play will be presented in Penticton High School auditorium Wednesday evening.

Critic Bligh found the stage production stood up well alongside the polished stage and movie versions of "My Fair Lady", which were adapted directly from the play.

WITTY LINES, SATIRE

"An audience of 1,700 reacted with chuckles and guffaws to the witty lines and satiric barbs clearly projected by every member of the cast," reports Bligh.

"The performance moved along at a rhythmic pace, with excellent sense of timing and quick changes of scene."

Paddy Croft, starring as Eliza

Doolittle, was convincing in her role of the ignorant girl used by two experts in phonetics to prove their pet theories.

Her transition into a lady was accomplished with "subtlety and finesse," said Bligh.

Her father Alfred Doolittle, played by Allan Nunn, dominated the stage with his glib lines whenever he appeared.

Professor Henry Higgins, played by Bill Glover, was somewhat spasmatic, according to the critic.

Tickets for the Penticton performance are available at Penticton Music Centre, Knight's Pharmacy and Harris Music Shop.

More Federal Aid For Education Needed, Says PTA

A need for more federal aid towards education was unanimously affirmed by members of the Primary - Jermyn Avenue P-TA at their monthly meeting in the Jermyn Avenue elementary school activity room.

The program, arranged by Mrs. A. Tyhurst, took the form of a "buzz session" in which various resolutions to the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, were discussed and either rejected or accepted.

The resolutions will be voted on by delegates from throughout the province at the annual Easter convention of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation.

Penticton delegates will cast their votes in accordance with the decisions of the local associations in Penticton.

100 Enjoy Events at Father-Son Banquet

One hundred fathers and sons, and officials of the Cub and Scout organization enjoyed a pleasant evening at the annual Father and Son Banquet of the Third Penticton Cub Pack and Scout Troop.

The dinner, held in the Anglican Parish Hall during the weekend, under convener of Mrs. C. Richardson, assisted by a committee of the mothers' auxiliary, was a big success.

UNUSUAL DECORATIONS

Unusual decorations, featuring a scene from the Jungle Book, and a Soa. fireplace, were the work of Mrs. A. Ante, Mrs. E. R. Nesbitt and Mrs. Tony Day. In charge of the kitchen was Mrs. F. Taylor. Mrs. E. R. Nesbitt was responsible for tables and servers.

Guests at the head table were Dr. McLarty, chairman of the district council; G. Blewett, district Scoutmaster; Gwynn Russell, assistant district commissioner; Mrs. June Cumming, district Cubmaster; J. Scrivener, field commissioner; Game Warden H. Tyler; Reg Hyde; Rev. Bush; Const. Anderson, RCMP; Mrs. Ante, and Irvin Hobden.

Following the banquet Troop Leader Grant McMoreland proposed a toast to the fathers, and E. H. Cotton responded.

DONATIONS ACKNOWLEDGED

Thanks were extended to the firms whose donations had contributed greatly to the success of the banquet.

Contributions came from Canadian Bakeries, Safeway Store, Watts-Hunt Market, Wilcox-Hall, Noca Dairy, and B.C. Tree Fruits. The Prince Charles Hotel was thanked for allowing the meat to be cooked in its kitchen, under supervision of the hotel chef, Mr. Kendrick.

After the dinner skits were performed by the Cubs and Scouts, and a film on the Scout Jamboree was shown.

TALK OF THE VALLEY

If butcher LLOYD CHAPMAN of Okanagan Falls holds a sale of hamburger this week, here's the reason. Saturday night at 10 a 17-year-old juvenile drove a car through the front of Lloyd's shop, smashing two plate glass windows and pushing one wall four inches out. The youth will be charged.

BUYER HOSTED

Hustling Japanese manufacturers hosted Penticton novelty store owner JOHN KOZLOWSKI during a recent buying trip in Mexico and the Orient. Rapidly-growing trade with North America has encouraged the Japanese to speed up modernization, Kozlowski reports. They are putting out three classes of goods, he says: good, better and best.

SCOUT BANQUET

Kids and dads get together tomorrow night at the Father and Son Banquet being held by the First Penticton Scout Troop and Seventh Cub pack. Place is the United Church hall at 8:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be GWYNN RUSSELL, assistant district commissioner. Evening will be topped off by a showing of the last World Jamboree film.

This Time There Can Be No Half Measures by Council

Top item on city council agenda tonight could well be the line from the popular song of the second World War, "Where do we go from here?"

Mayor C. E. Oliver, being more discreet than usual, has declined any comment on action he intends to take at tonight's meeting, but he has promised "some surprises" for council to consider. We hope those surprises do not take the form of more suspensions or demands for resignations.

Other members of the council have remained remarkably silent on the events of last week. They do not win our commendation for that, for we feel that had they been as energetic as aldermen should be a special meeting of council would have been called the day following the Mayor's pronouncements. A six day lapse when such important happenings are taking place demonstrates either lamentable apathy on the part of the council, or a feeling of utter despair that anything could be accomplished by discussion.

We suggest that at tonight's meeting no punches are pulled either by Mayor Oliver or the aldermen serving with him. To use an old cliché, the hour of truth has arrived.

1959 is two months old and the only accomplishment of present council is something close to chaos in municipal affairs.

No city can afford such prolonged wranglings. The time has arrived when decisions, however hurtful they may be to individuals, must be made. Mayor Oliver must either back up his latest demonstrations of individuality with solid facts or resign. City council must either support him in his actions or demand his resignation. This time there can be no half measures or cries of "don't do it again!"

Canada Has a National Flag

Kenneth Walters, writing in the Veteran's Advocate, has some powerful things to say about the many Canadians seeking a national flag for the Dominion.

Says the irate penman:

A Canadian national flag is already recognized in all foreign countries and at the world's council tables through long usage. It is one of which all Canadians can be proud, including great numbers of new Canadians from many countries. For them, it guarantees their freedom — the protection of their liberty such as some have never known.

The sudden revival of a forced flag issue is needless. All that is now required to make the existing widely recognized Canadian national flag official is an item of legislation, simply the statutory declaration. The controversy would at once end, except for diminishing wails from the thwarted anti-British agitators.

The Encyclopedia Britannica states the flag is already "legal and widely recognized abroad." It was made legal in order to fly it on all Canadian buildings abroad by an Act of Parliament dated in 1924. That was a Mackenzie King measure.

It is flying today over Canada House in London.

It flies over Canadian legations and trade offices in a score of countries, where it has been recognized and honored as the Canadian national flag for many years.

It is familiar in Finland, France, the Benelux countries, West Germany, Italy, India, Hong Kong and New Zealand, to name just a few countries where it is flying, recognized and honored as this is read.

No Space Travellers

The director of the British Columbia Research Council, Dr. Gordon Shrum, says Canada does not have the resources to compete in space travel and should stay out of that field. Considering the facts of Canada's economic and financial position and the cost of "space travel", there is no gainsaying his statement. Yet, as reported, it is oversimplified. What would be true of an attempt by Canada to mount her own space program is not necessarily true of limited participation in a group effort. The considerations that determine our positions today might not govern our actions in the future.

Dr. Shrum said in the same Vancouver address that, unless Canada places greater emphasis on scientific development, she cannot hope to maintain a position as a world industrial power. We may be quite certain that one of the great fields of scientific development during the next decades, and one of the most influential in international affairs, will be the exploration of space. Accordingly, the time may yet come when this country will find it advisable to participate, because not to participate will mean sitting on the ground watching other industrial powers speed past high overhead.

Participation need not mean huge investments in Canadian space rockets and the like. It could mean a very modest program of basic scientific inquiry related to the exploration of space or, what is more likely, limited participation in a joint program with other nations of the Commonwealth. The question of whether Britain should take part in the exploration of space is already being warmly debated in the Old Country. The debate might continue for years; but it is hard to believe that the Commonwealth can indefinitely refrain from taking an active part in space work — a branch of scientific technology that promises to have revolutionary effects upon the future of mankind.

REPORT FROM THE U.K. Tax Concession On Cars Sought

By M. McINTYRE HOOD

Special London (England)

Correspondent for The Herald

LONDON — The British motor industry is very hopeful that when the Chancellor of the Exchequer brings down his 1959 budget in April, there will be a substantial relaxation of the purchase tax on automobiles. This tax now stands at 60 per cent of the sale price of the car.

Chief reason for these hopes is found in the importance of the motor industry as a source of employment, and its possibilities for expansion. Last year, for the first time in the industry's history, car sales passed the million mark. If Britain, however, is to meet the increasing competition from other countries, particularly in the export field, sales must keep on going up, and the purchase tax is a very decisive factor in bringing this about. Foreign competition is a very serious factor in the industry. If any substantial part of the automobile exports was lost, it would have a bad effect on the United Kingdom standard of living. Hence the hopes for reductions in the purchase tax on automobiles.

EXPORT RECORDS

The export records show the extent to which foreign competition is growing. Last year, Britain exported 486,816 cars, of which 130,000 went to the dollar area.

This represented an increase of 14.7 per cent over the 1957 period.

In the same period, however,

West German car exports increased by 27.2 per cent, French car exports were up by 46.5 per cent, and Italian by 45.2 per cent.

Proportionately, these European countries have improved their position in the export field at a much greater rate than the United Kingdom. It is argued by the automobile manufacturers that any tax concession which increases the sales of cars at home would offset the overhead costs per vehicle, and thus enable British cars to be sold abroad at a more competitive price.

RESULT OF REDUCTION

The argument is being used, as it has been in Canada in connection with the sales and excise taxes on Canadian automobiles, that a reduction in the purchase tax rate need not mean a decrease in the government's revenue from this tax. If the tax were cut by 20 per cent, the government would lose $22,000,000 in revenue if production remained static. But if the cut resulted in a 25 per cent increase in car sales, as had been predicted, the government would lose nothing in purchase tax revenue, but would even gain an additional

$2,500,000 in vehicle tax and $3-

500,000 in gasoline taxes.

But even if there was a slight revenue loss, there would be implicit compensation for this in bigger car exports and a rising demand for labor in the motor industry.

Girls in Physical Education Course 'Most Photogenic'

TORONTO (CP) — Where do you find the most photogenic girls at the University of Toronto?

"They are in the school of physical health education," says the school's assistant director, Zerada Slack. "They are the best-looking and they are in the best shape. A third of them marry soon after graduation."

Nearly 70 girls are taking a three-year course at the school which will give them the degree of bachelor of physical and health education. Many will take another year's training at Ontario College of Education and become teachers. Others will continue at university to become doctors; some will study physical nurses or work in rehabilitation, some will join community groups like the Young Women's Christian Association and supervise recreational facilities.

TRAIN MIND TOO

Whatever job they are heading for, we try to teach them that they can't train the mind without training the body," said Miss Slack. "But doing physical exercises is only part of our training. The girls must have high academic training too."

These are some of the subjects they must study: English, psychology, zoology, physics, chemistry, physiology, anatomy, genetics, health education, hygiene and preventive medicine.

Then come sports activities. They are not expected to be championship class in any sport, but they must be good in one, and understand fully; basketball, volleyball, tennis, speed ball (a modified form of soccer), field hockey, badminton, golf, fencing, figure skating and alpine bowling.

SUCCESSFUL GRADS

This is what some graduates have done: Sally Wallace of St. Catharines won seven of the highest awards in athletics for women at the university and now is a doctor; Mrs. Fern Alexander is Toronto's first woman police sergeant; Nancy Cannon is director of the YWCA in Montreal; Mary McClellan heads the YWCA in Winnipeg; Ivy Baxter from Jamaica works with the Little Carib dancers, who performed as a side attraction to the Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Ont. in 1958.

All first-year women students at University of Toronto must participate in physical and health education. Learning to swim is compulsory.

A new building is being built for women's physical education. Costing $2,000,000, it will open in September.

Miss Slack is a graduate of McGill University, and taught for a year in Hamilton.

OTTAWA REPORT

Oil Rush on in Canadian Arctic

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Fifty million acres can't be wrong.

That variation on the well-known saying about fifty million Frenchmen is the slogan being heard around Ottawa, jubilantly endorsing Canadians' faith in the Diefenbaker "vision" of Northern development.

On St. Valentine's Day, Hon. Alvin Hamilton, our Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources, spread the good news that the prospectors had already staked their claims to oil and gas rights in our Arctic over an area of fifty million acres.

This sensational oil rush began late in January. After totalling 51,422,000 acres up to St. Valentine's Day, it hit a new peak on the next working day when further claims added another twenty-five million acres to the area blocked off. One prospector even telephoned to Alvin Hamilton from New York City, to apply for "all your Arctic Islands." He evidently was not aware that they include no less than eighteen islands each larger than our smallest province, Prince Edward Island.

There can of course be no packing off of claims on our snow-covered Arctic lands; no cutting of trees to make corner markings in our treeless barrens. Today's stakers are mail-order prospectors, each prepared to back his decision with substantial sums to be spent on surveys, tests and development within the next few years.

MILLIONS MUST BE RIGHT

Last year, a sensation was caused when areas larger than the known Alberta oilfields were staked in the Yukon. Yet this Arctic Oil Rush could cover islands and the surrounding underwater "continental shelf" totalling three times the whole area of Alberta.

There is a dramatic story behind this new oil rush, a story to fill Canadians with confidence in our country's future, although alas that promise for tomorrow does not fill the empty dinner plate of today's unfortunate jobless.

The story is this: the world's greatest and most accessible known source of oil, in the Arab lands, lies in the No Man's Land between Communist Boss Khrushchev and Egyptian Dictator Nasser, two uneasily calm volcanoes which might erupt at any time. The big international oil companies, which have large investments in those Arabian oilfields, are working on the presumption that they have two years of peace there remaining ahead of them, in which to recover as much as possible from their local investments. After that, they expect to have to look elsewhere for their supplies of oil. Those petroleum giants are hedging against future anticipated rebellion or upheaval in the Middle East by staking out the possible oil riches in our Arctic, which may soon become the main supply for oil-hungry Western Europe through the use of mammoth atom-powered submarine tankers.

GEORGE HEES ASSISTS

A great illness to the interest of British, American and other foreign oil companies in Canada was given by the very important and widely reported speech delivered by Hon. George Hees, our Minister of Transport, to the Canadian Society in New York City three weeks ago.

In that speech, Hees filled in — as had never before been done for an American audience — the details of the Diefenbaker "vision." He explained how our economy is surging and our determination is strengthening; he described how the Diefenbaker Government will foster private enterprise and assist the development of our rich natural resources. He laid at rest the fears which foreigners had felt about the difficulties of our Arctic climate and the uncertainties of our Government's policies. Above all, Mr. Hees killed the hesitation felt by private investors ever since the Borden Commission on Energy proposed that the government should regulate and limit profits.

The Diefenbaker Government, Mr. Hees promised, recognizes the right of private enterprise to earn a profit commensurate with a fair return for effort expended and money invested.

It was certainly no coincidence that our Arctic Oil Rush hit a new peak just after Mr. Hees delivered that timely and significant speech. And so it is that now, in justification of our national optimism, we hear here the slogan: "Fifty million acres can't be wrong."

DOCTOR'S SIREN

Sir:— In response to your recent editorial appeal for more written material from Penticton readers, I can readily understand the letters coming from surrounding districts, for after all there is quite a difference between a five cent stamp and a long distance telephone call for example. Ver-non, but I can also see your point regarding our tendency to "let George do it." So, in order to reduce our good doctor's blood pressure (incidentally we in this family enjoy your editorials very much, as the young people would say, "they are the most!"). I hereby submit my contribution.

I refer to the recent railway accident on Eckhardt Avenue and the subsequent doctor's accident while hastening to render medical assistance.

There are two aspects to be considered. In the doctor's accident—there could have been a fatality — if not himself — it could have been the other party involved. In the meantime the railway accident victims were waiting and precious seconds were ticking away.

Fortunately in this case there was no serious injury, but it could happen again with more dire results. I feel that something should be done about this, and this is what I suggest.

Every doctor's car should be equipped with a siren. That way while he is hastening to the scene of an accident he would have undisputed right of way.

Incidentally, regardless of accidents, who would want the stark to beat the doctor to the hospital?

Sincerely,
 Mrs. K. J. Doyle.

Letter From Africa Read at Meeting

SUMMERLAND—Social differences created by the "color line" and racial discrimination are making difficult situations for missionaries in Northern Rhodesia as told in a letter to the United Church Women's Federation by the society's prayer partner, Miss Elsie Bunner. This was read to the February meeting by Mrs. A. C. Fleming.

The same situation was noted in a different part of the world in the Caribbean islands, from the Bahamas to Trinidad when Mrs. J. Lazenby, Mrs. H. B. Mair and Mrs. C. O. Richmond gave interesting papers on the years' study subject, "Concerning Our Neighbors." Government by the majority is the question uppermost in these islands where the greatest number of people are not of the white race, it was pointed out.

WMS DELEGATE

Mrs. Margaret Babcock, who was appointed as a delegate to the WMS Presbytery in Kelowna, Feb. 24-25, was hostess for the afternoon, welcoming 20 members and one visitor.

Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, president, opened the meeting, when Mrs. Alderson's favorite hymn was sung.

Mrs. Melvin Pollock arranged the devotional service with Mrs. Alf McLachlan, Mrs. J. Steeds and Mrs. J. Clark taking part.

Following the financial statement, it was decided to give $10 to the board of stewards toward the cost of painting the church hall and $3, the Federation's allotment, for the bed in the hospital in Lucknow, India, maintained by the women's organizations of Summerland churches.

CONVENERS' REPORT

Mrs. A. C. Fleming, secretary, gave a resume of all conveners' reports for 1958 and thank-you messages were read.

Supply convener, Mrs. W. F. Ward, told of the number of articles ready to be sent to Korea and was instructed to buy material for quilt lining.

The fund raised by the sale at each meeting of special dainties which was intended for equipment for the church kitchen was turned over to the friendship convener to buy cards and small gifts for sick and shut-in members.

Before adjournment members were reminded of the spring tea and bazaar on April 4. Tea was served by Mrs. H. Dracas and Mrs. M. Babcock during a social half-hour.

Rector Addresses St. Edwards W.A.

OLIVER — St. Edward's Evening Branch W.A. held the regular meeting at the home of Mrs. B. L. Charlish Thursday evening with 25 members present.

Mrs. H. A. Porteous, president, chose a committee to begin making the curtains for the Parish Hall. It was decided to hold the regular meetings at the hall except for occasional special meetings to be held in members' homes.

BRITISH WOOL AND THE HOLY ORDERS

The religious orders were important wool-raisers throughout the Middle Ages. Almost every abbey, priory and bishopric had a huge flock. In the 12th Century, the Abbot of Cleeve had vast sheep pastures in the Cotswolds; the Priory of Swinburn, Winchester, had 20,000 sheep and the Bishop there had 29,000. Ely Abbey had 13,400 sheep and the nuns had 1,700 grazing on Minchampton Common" not long after the Domesday Book failed to tally the sheep. They were too many. —British Woollens News.

Following the business meeting, Rev. C. H. Butler gave a short address to the group. Mr. Butler stated that he felt that the future would bring great strides towards the objective of unity among the churches of the Christian world and felt that to progress towards that end, considerable thought should be given by individuals and church organizations.

Lunch was served by the co-hostesses Mrs. L. J. Bettison and Mrs. W. Bennett.

The Die is Cast for Vees, Win or Else

The moment is at hand. There can be no more next times for the Penticton Vees. Going into tonight's game down three games to Kelowna Packers, Penticton's green and white clad warriors have to come up with a win tonight or to any future games as spectators.

It won't be easy. Kelowna has the bit in their teeth and are pointing to another Allan Cup, but after extending the Packers into overtime Saturday night and playing in their own backyard the Vees are going to be really tough to beat.

The Vees only lost by an eyelash on Saturday and now they are playing the kind of hockey they are capable of and strengthened by Bill Warwick and Lorne Nadeau who are both over-due for some goals, fans could get a pleasant surprise tonight.

OVERTIME GOAL

Kelowna, Saturday night, Penticton's under-dog Vees, playing their finest game of the season, lost a heart-breaker, when Gerry Goyer, Kelowna Packers' star centre slammed in an overtime goal to give the Packers a bitterly fought 3-2 win.

Kelowna scored the only goal in the first period, the second period was scoreless and then the Packers, after being outscored 2-1 in the third, rammed in the only goal in the overtime session for the win.

Greg Jablonski, Claire Wakshinski and Gerry Goyer were the Packers' Shotsmiths, while Don Slater and Lyle Willey scored for the Vees.

Kelowna started things off early with Key Conway off by elbowing, Jablonski slammed in Goyer's rebound at the two minute mark, for the only goal in the first period.

From then until midway through the third period both teams went scoreless, which was only due to the outstanding play of Dave Gatherum and Don Moog in the opposing nets.

Though there was no scoring going on there was plenty of extra-curricular activity with 12 penalties being called, seven of them to Kelowna.

The Vees finally tied up the game at 8:01 of the third, Slater getting the credit, assisted by Dave Gordichuk and Tick Beattie.

Four minutes later the large contingent of fans went into hysterics as Willey, Beattie and Gordichuk combined to put the Vees in the lead, 2-1.

However, they had just nicely settled back in their seats, with visions of a win dancing through their heads, when, whammo, Wakshinski rapped one in from right in front to tie the game 2-2 and send it into overtime.

Coming out for the extra session the Packers wasted no time as Goyer, getting his only goal of the night, batted one in at 1:01 which proved to be the winner when Kelowna dug in and held off the desperate Vees.

The Packers also led in the statistics, outshooting the Vees 43-38 and getting 10 of the 16 penalties called.

SCREEN SHOTS

The Vees have never tried harder and with even a little break in their direction they should have walked off with a well-earned win and one which they desperately needed.

This is not to take anything away from the Kelowna Packers who, coming from behind as they did in the last minutes of the game and going on to win, the mark of the champion is evident.

A painful thing to see after the fantastic exhibition he put on in the game, was Don Moog in his dressing-room calling himself seven kinds of an idiot for what he considered was a mistake on his part on Kelowna's first goal.

No regrets were needed from such a brilliant performer.

The win Saturday gives the Packers a three-game lead and they will be out tonight to try and finish the Vees off, but if they come down with a burial detail, intending to perform the final rites, they may get a rude shock and find the corpse very much alive and kicking.

On the Vees performance in Kelowna and teetering on the brink of disaster as they are, the team will be going out there with the express purpose of separating the men from the boys.

Awards were made to the Packers Saturday night in which Moe Young was voted the most popular player on the team; Gerry Goyer was given the most valuable player award; Bill Warwick, when introduced to the crowd, was given the biggest hand.

In the other game played Saturday night the Vernon Canadians eked out a close 4-3 win over the Kamloops Chiefs to take 2-1 edge in their seven game series.

Summary:

1st Period—(1) Kelowna—Jablonski (Goyer) 2:00. Penalties: Conway, Durston, Kraiger, Chorley, Smith (2).

2nd Period—No score. Penalties—Durston, Durban, Smith, North (2).

Wednesday sees two NHL games, Montreal at Toronto and Detroit at New York.

3rd Period—(2) Penticton—Slater (Gordichuk, Beattie); (3) Penticton—Willey (Beattie, Gordichuk) 9:00; (4) Kelowna—Wakshinski (McCallum, Roche). Penalties—Nadeau, Kowalchuk, Smith, Jablonski.

Overtime—(5) Kelowna—Goyer (Jablonski). Penalties—Smith.

Freightways Out of Playoffs

Penticton Freightways lost the semi-finals of the Okanagan Senior "B" basketball playoffs, to Kelowna Royalites in Kelowna committee rooms.

Here's the way the epic series went:

In the first game of the best of three series played in Kelowna the Royalites defeated Penticton 61-35. In the second game played in Penticton the local club evened the series with a 61-53 victory.

The third game was scheduled for Kelowna on Thursday, February 19.

Unable to floor a team on that day the Penticton club asked for a change in playing date to Thursday, February 17 or Saturday, February 21.

The reasons given were that coach Ted Bowfield would be absent on the Thursday attending a banquet in his honor at Burnaby, and that three other players would be engaged in crucial high school basketball games the following day.

The Penticton request was made definite on Sunday, February 14 and confirmed by phone calls and a wire the following Tuesday.

Ignoring all forms of notification the Kelowna club continued to announce the final game for Thursday night.

At 3:15 p.m. on the Thursday afternoon Penticton club manager Bert White was informed that the playing date had been changed to Friday. Mr. White tried to explain to Kelowna manager Hank Tostenson and league president Brian Weddell that it would be impossible to play Friday because only four players would be available.

"We knew and appreciated that Thursday was the regular night for Kelowna to play," Mr. White said this morning. "But we also knew that they could have played Tuesday without any difficulty.

To show our willingness to appreciate their problems we offered to pay the additional cost of gymnasium rental if they would switch their date to Tuesday. Kelowna apparently thought Penticton should be forced to play with the part team they could muster."

In a message to Penticton fans Mr. White expressed regret that the local club was prevented from going further along the playoff trail.

Lund Scores Seven In BCD's 8-2 Win

Larry Lund BCD Juveniles star centre monopolized the score sheet when he fired seven of the BCD's eight goals to lead Penticton to an 8-2 triumph over Vernon in the first of a three-game playoff that ended in a near riot, here Sunday.

The rough game came to an early end when, with both teams out on the ice engaged in a free-for-all, the referees called the game at 17:45 of the third period and awarded it to Penticton.

The teams both scored twice in the first period, BCD's rammed in four unanswered goals in the second and grabbed two more up to the time that war broke out in the third.

Larry Lund got seven of the BCD's goals and assisted on the only other goal by Bob Megale, to lead Penticton, while for Vernon it was Don McCall and Harry Wynnychuk.

Penticton having a little trouble getting untracked, in the first period, soon found themselves behind a two nothing deficit when Vernon starting out well took the lead on goals by McCall and Wynnychuk.

Penticton, finally getting untracked, tied it up in the last minute of play in the period when Lund rapped in two quickies, with assists on both goals going to line-mates Allercott and Megale.

In the second, as the BCD's seemed to remember that they were last year's champs, the same lines accounted for four more goals, with never a peep out of Vernon, to take a 6-2 lead.

Lund got credit for the first, Megale, Lund and Allercott the second, Lund, Megale and O'Connell on the third and Lund and

Lindsay Hot, Gloats As Detroit Slumps

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

This won't be Ted Lindsay's greatest National Hockey League season, but it must surely be one of his most satisfying.

When Detroit Red Wings sent the battered little left winger to Chicago Black Hawks two seasons ago he seemed fated to play out his NHL string with a last-place club.

But with only 11 games left in the schedule neither the 33-year-old Lindsay nor the Hawks bear the faintest resemblance to their discouraged counterparts of last year.

SCORES THREE GOALS

The highest-scoring left wing in NHL history got himself three goals Sunday night as Chicago trounced the visiting Toronto Maple Leafs 5-1. They were his 18th, 19th and 20th goals this season.

Saturday, though Detroit licked them 5-2, Lindsay's line got both Chicago goals and he assisted on one—his 31st assist this season—and, the old fire still unquenched, also picked up his 15th and 16th minutes in the penalty box, where he reigns supreme.

Saturday, Dickie Moore collected his 32nd goal and four assists as Montreal Canadiens walloped Boston Bruins 6-0 for Jacques Plante's ninth shutout.

But Sunday Canadiens travelled to New York and took a 5-1 licking from the Rangers, whose 1-1 draw with Maple Leafs in Toronto Saturday stopped a losing streak at six games.

BRUINS WHIP DETROIT

Boston too, was a different team Sunday, taking Red Wings 4-1 on their home ice to consolidate their hold on third place, two points back of Chicago.

Sunday Lindsay scored in the first period to give Chicago a 1-0 lead though Leafs carried the attack. In the second Bob Pulford tied it for the Leafs but early in the third Lindsay scored again. Lorne Ferguson added another moments after and two minutes later Ted scored his third. Eric Nesterenko completed the rout.

Eddie Litzenberger assisted on all three Lindsay goals.

Saturday, Ted Sloan scored both Chicago goals—his 23rd and 24th this season.

But Detroit scored three times with Chicago short-handed to win going away. Detroit goals came from Gord Howe—his 26th—rookie Charlie Burns, Nick Mickoski, Alex Delvecchio and rookie Len Lunde.

BONIN SCORES TWICE

Right - winger Marcel Bonin scored twice against Boston for Canadiens Saturday. Jean Beliveau added two more, Moore added a fifth and Bernie Geoffrion counted the sixth.

Plante played brilliantly for his shutout, making 31 saves, and had help from Lady Luck who frowned on the Bruin attack all night.

Hard-working Andy Hebenton banged in two goals and goalie Gump Worsley made 31 saves on Canadiens Sunday, allowing only Beliveau's 29th goal of the season.

Andy Bathgate started New York off in the first period. In the second Hebenton and Harry Howell raised it to 3-0 before Beliveau scored and in the third Hebenton scored again. Camille Henry rounded out the scoring with his 20th goal this season.

SHOOTING TYING GOAL

Camille got his 19th Saturday to give Rangers a 1-0 lead over Toronto that lasted until halfway through the third period when rookie Gerry Ehman got a tying goal on a long shot.

Leaf netminder Ed Chadwick kept Toronto in contention by handling 33 shots safely.

Don Simmons was a far cry from the goalie who let in six shots in Montreal the night before. He stopped 39 as the Wings poured it on in a vain effort to stay in sight of fourth place.

Rookie Larry Leach, Jerry Toppazzini, Vic Stasiuk, and Guy Gendron scored for the Bruins. Delvecchio got Detroit's only goal.

Wednesday sees two NHL games, Montreal at Toronto and Detroit at New York.

Hallquist Wins In Peachland Curling 'Spiel

In the Peachland Curling Club's 10th annual bonspiel held in Peachland over the weekend the big winner was the Jerry Hallquist rink of Summerland.

Hallquist won out over the Marlin Birch rink of Penticton in a thrilling final game of the A event Sunday night.

Len Riley of Westbank placed third in the A event and fourth place went to D. Christani of Summerland.

In the B event K. Douglas of Penticton took first, M. Maudsley, Kelowna was second, Doug Noel, Penticton third and G. Turner, Kelowna fourth.

Herb Lemke of Summerland grabbed off first place in the C event followed by Dick Cowley, Kelowna, Ken Fulkles, Peachland, and John Brown, Westbank.

Bantam and Midget Playoff Action

Penticton Bantam All-Stars walked off with a win in the first game of a two game total goals series in Kelowna Saturday when they handed the Kelowna Bantams an 8-5 beating.

Scored for Penticton were Polard with a hat trick, Morgag with two and Smith, Wilson and Emsland with singles.

For Kelowna it was Kasabuchi and Maddock scoring two and Bailey adding the other goal.

The teams play again next Saturday in Penticton and a good attendance is hoped for in what may be the deciding game.

In the other playoff games Penticton Midgets advanced to the final against Kelowna when they beat Vernon Midgets 9-3 to give them the series two games to one.

McNeil was the big gun for the Penticton team scoring four goals followed by Caruso who picked up two and Wish and Cuzzochrea rapping singles.

Mori of Kelowna got two and Cormack one.

Carol Heiss Ready for World Skating Tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Relaxed and healthy, winner Carol Heiss said today she is in the best condition ever to defend her world figure-skating championship here.

"I'm healthy for my first world's competition since I first won in 1956," she said. The 19-year-old New York University coed has won three straight senior women's world championships despite colds and influenza.

Carol is matched against 15 other girls from the United States and 10 other countries.

The young women Tuesday start cutting their compulsory school figures that count 60 per cent toward the final rating. Free skating for the senior women is scheduled Thursday night. It counts the other 40 per cent in the standings.

Carol expects the stiffest challenge from Hanna Walter of Austria, 1958 European champion.

David Jenkins, 22, Colorado Springs collegian, is bidding for his third world championship in the senior men's competition. His chief rival is Don Jackson of Oshawa, Ont., winner of the North American championship at Toronto this year.

Sixty-four skaters are entered in the four major divisions of competition.

Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul of Toronto, senior pairs experts, will be shooting for their third consecutive world crown.

IN THE NHL

The National Hockey League scoring race is tighter now than it's been all season—after week-end play only three points separate first-place Dickie Moore of Montreal Canadiens and his fourth-place teammate Bernie Geoffrion.

The leaders:

	G	A	Pts.
Moore, Montreal	32	37	69
Litzenberger, Chicago	28	40	68
Bathgate, New York	31	36	67
Geoffrion, Montreal	22	44	66
Beliveau, Montreal	29	34	63
Howe, Detroit	26	37	63
Stasiuk, Boston	24	20	53
Sullivan, New York	18	35	53

NHL LEADERS

Standings: Montreal, 32 wins, 14 losses, 12 ties, 76 points.

Points: Moore, Montreal, 69

Goals: Moore, 32.

Assists: Geoffrion, Montreal, 44

Penalties: Lindsay, Chicago 160 minutes.

Shutouts: Plante, Montreal 9.

MACS WIN AGAIN

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (CP)—Canada's world hockey team scored its first shutout of the European tour Sunday night 7-0 over West Germany in an exhibition game marked by the three-goal performance of Montreal-born forward Dave Jones and the strict rulework of the Czech referees.

The officials cracked down with six minutes left to play and before the final buzzer sounded they had handed out 14 penalties. In the brief span, 10 of them to the Canadians.

Goalie Gordie Bell didn't have much trouble with the Germans from the start and after a dull and scoreless first period, the team from Belleville, Ont., scored three goals in the second period and four in the third, with Jones getting his three in the finale.

NEWCOMBE FLIES

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Remember not so long ago when Don Newcombe was so scared of flying he had to be hypnotized to get into a plane?

Well, the big fellow now is taking flying lessons and hopes to become a licensed pilot.

The six-foot-four pitcher, an early arrival at Cincinnati Reds' baseball training camp, said today he has flown a plane and is looking forward to tackling a 600-mile-an-hour jet.

"Just between us," Newcombe confided, "I'm not hysterical about flying but I've got to be practical. The planes are here to stay and the ball clubs are going in for flying more and more. So I figured if I'm going to fly, why not know more about it?"

Ryan Bests Underhill Wins Ladies Skating

By GERY McNEIL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP)—The Dorcen Ryan-Pat Underhill rivalry, one of the most intense in Canadian sports, highlighted the Canadian outdoor speedskating championships here during the weekend.

The Canadian men's title was won by Bill Kaesting of Edmonton, who finished only one point ahead of Craig McKay of Saskatoon, but crowd attention focused on the Ryan-Underhill duel.

Mrs. Ryan, the Edmonton favorite, won four races and came second to Mrs. Underhill in the fifth to amass 22 points, five more than her Dawson Creek, B.C., opponent, Patsy Lee of Saskatoon, only other senior woman, came third with 11 points.

MILE THRILLER

The women's mile—the thriller of the 53 races held—saw a nip-and-tuck battle end with both grabbing for the tape at 3:06.1. Judges awarded the match to Mrs. Ryan. Her time was 3.5 seconds better than the former record.

Mrs. Ryan slipped in the 440 but got up to place third to help rival. She then came back to equal her 1958 mark of 2:12 in the 220 and set a time of 1:23.9 in the 880 to shatter her former mark of 1:28.5.

The lighter Mrs. Underhill was seldom more than a stride behind her opponent.

Both have been recommended for Canada's 1960 Olympic speed-

Authorities Reject Offers to Rescue Trapped Animals

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters)—Distressed animal lovers are bombarding the government with offers to help rescue thousands of wild animals marooned by the rising waters of Kariba Lake.

But authorities so far have rejected their offers of aid because of the dangers involved in rescuing such wild beasts as elephants, lions and leopards.

The trapped animals form a cross-section of jungle life caught by the rising waters of a lake being created by the Kariba Dam, Rhodesia's great hydro-electric project.

Families of monkeys and baboons are trapped in treetops or marooned on islands. Kariba Lake now covers 1,000 square miles and its waters are rising fast in the heaviest seasonal rains in years.

Rescue operations include plans to shoot tranquilizer darts into the fiercer beasts so they can be removed by boats in a drugged state.

Elephants and rhinos—the really heavy animals—will be driven in the right direction to give them a chance of reaching land if they swim for it.

MONKEYS OUT OF LUCK

But monkeys, baboons and snakes are out of luck.

Efforts have been expended by the game department on the destruction of these animals as part of a crop protection campaign in the African resettlement areas.

All such animals marooned will be shot, it was stated.

30 Africans Arrested in Day of Rioting

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (Reuters)—More than 30 natives are under arrest following a day of rioting in which one person was killed and at least 50 injured.

Sunday's violence here and in nearby Limbe came on the third day of political unrest throughout the Nyasaland territory, part of the Central African Federation along with Northern and Southern Rhodesia.

Most of the injured were hit by stones or clubs.

The rioting began in Blantyre when police broke up a crowd after a meeting of the African National Congress, a political organization campaigning for African rights.

An African member of the legislative council, H. B. Chipembere, told the meeting that every white now is an enemy of every African in Nyasaland.

He said the African population is ready to fight "to show this stupid Nyasaland government that we are prepared to die for our soil."

Military reinforcements continued to move into Nyasaland today, over the Rhodesian border. Extensive police patrols also are on duty.

Settlement of CBC Strike Imminent

By DON ATTFIELD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Settlement of the Montreal CBC producers strike appears imminent.

At least 1,200 of the 2,500 affected workers may be back at work Tuesday. The strike began eight weeks ago today, crippling the French-language television service.

Some 1,200 regular employees were to vote today on a basis of settlement reached overnight by their three unions and the CBC.

Talks were expected to resume with two other unions representing 1,200 French authors and artists who work under contract or professional arrangements for the CBC.

A basis of settlement was reached three weeks ago in the original dispute between the CBC and 74 producers whose picket lines, set up Dec. 29, were respected by the 2,400 other workers. The producers have held off signing an agreement until back-to-work arrangements are made for the sympathizing unions.

It was understood from this that the 1,200 regular employees might return to work before settlement is reached with the authors and artists.

All five unions are affiliates of the Canadian Labor Congress. The dispute started with a demand by the producers for recognition of their association as their bargaining agent. Terms of their proposed settlement with the CBC have not been revealed.

THREE RELEASED

Marc Lapointe, authors-artists spokesman, said Sunday his group had released the three other unions for keeping a common front.

It was understood from this that the 1,200 regular employees might return to work before settlement is reached with the authors and artists.

All five unions are affiliates of the Canadian Labor Congress. The dispute started with a demand by the producers for recognition of their association as their bargaining agent. Terms of their proposed settlement with the CBC have not been revealed.

FIRST MAJOR BREAK

The agreement reached early today was the first major break in three weeks of almost constant talks in an Ottawa hotel.

It was between the publicly-owned corporation and three unions representing the 1,200 regular CBC employees—the American Newspaper Guild, the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians and the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees.

The United Church Training School in Toronto has 45 students in attendance, the largest class since Church union in 1925. Of the students 13 are university graduates (two having degrees of B.D.), eight are nurses. Of the 19 students in the graduating class four are planning to serve the United Church overseas, some are interested in rural work, some in downtown churches and some will serve as assistants to ministers or directors of Christian Education.

Demand Grows to Save Plane Industry Program

TORONTO (CP)—Demand grew today for a decisive program to salvage a major segment of the Canadian aircraft industry and thousands of highly-skilled technicians who are out of work.

The pressure—some political, some industrial, some private and all vocal—was aimed at Premier Frost's Ontario government and the federal government whose cancellation of the Arrow jet fighter program started the uproar.

Mr. Frost has pledged to enlist the "best brains" in the search for a solution.

The Ottawa action led to the dismissal of nearly 14,000 employees at Avro Aircraft and Orenda Engines Limited, subsidiaries of A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited. It reduced Avro from its position as one of Canada's biggest industrial employers to the status of a neighborhood bank.

TWELVE RETURN

Avro said 12 of its 4,000 engineers were asked to work today along with a small maintenance and security staff.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced the decision to ditch the supersonic Arrow Friday and said Canada is switching to Bomarc guided missiles, manufactured in the United States, for defence purposes.

The CCF and the Liberals the official opposition, planned attacks in the Ontario legislature today.

CALLED IRRESPONSIBLE

CCF Leader Donald C. MacDonald acknowledged that while scrapping the Arrow may have been unavoidable, the federal government's action "was essentially irresponsible in offering absolutely no alternative program to cushion the blow and save the industry."

This, he added, "throws an immediate obligation on the provincial government."

Mr. Frost said Sunday night he will summon a conference of industry and labor leaders to discuss ways of keeping the two plants open. He suggested non-military production, not necessarily planes, might be an answer.

An Avro spokesman said Sunday: "Already some of our top men have pulled out and many others are making plans to do so. U.S. aircraft companies have been placing help-wanted ads for technicians in Toronto newspapers for some time."

Crawford Gordon, president of A. V. Roe, asked what would happen to the existing aircraft. He said Sunday the government owned them and "they can come and fly them away."

The Avro-Orenda joint union stabilization committee criticized the federal government Saturday and considered a march on Ottawa. The group meets again today to resume searching for a course of action.

The powerful Inoué jet engine has been brought near the mass-production point by Orenda. A spokesman remarked cynically: "We'll sell this engine somewhere; maybe the Chinese would like it."

Avro had several drawing-board projects under way. One was a vertical takeoff flying jeep for the U.S. Air Force but even if it is accepted, nowhere near the original manpower will be required to produce it.

There is hopeful talk of Avro building another jet transport for civil airline service. It had built and flown one as far back as 1949. That was scrapped by the former Liberal government.

Mr. Gordon said at a press conference he has been asked to meet with Labor Minister Starr and Finance Minister Fleming. No date for the meeting has been set.

Mr. Gordon said A. V. Roe had made repeated suggestions to the government for the employment of its huge technical reserve if the Arrow was to be dumped. No reply was received to these overtures.

New Slant on Social Welfare

By KEN KELLY

Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—About 20 Canadians recently got new slants on social welfare and at the same time contributed to a similar reorientation by some 1,500 social workers from 42 other countries.

The Canadians were delegates to the ninth international conference of social work at Tokyo in December. Dr. George F. Davidson, Canada's deputy welfare minister, is president of the conference and presided at its sessions.

Dr. Davidson, a tall, soft-spoken man who has been active in welfare since 1934, is enthusiastic about the periodic international forums on social welfare.

VALUABLE FORUM

But, he says, it's hard to get their value across to the people. The conference is not an "action" body. It investigates and assesses broad problems in social welfare on the theory that greater knowledge about the problems of others gives valuable perspective from which the welfare worker views his own particular affairs.

"That doesn't mean you can go to one of these conferences and seize on some idea another fellow propounds and tab it for use at home," Dr. Davidson said in an interview.

"But it's a good and useful thing that those engaged with welfare problems get together to talk about their work."

A main theme of the Tokyo meeting concerned mobilization of resources for social needs. An overwhelming concern of the Asian countries was the enormous population pressure on the limited resources available to them.

At first glance, this might seem to be a problem about which Canada, with vast unoccupied areas, enormous natural resources but a small population, could contribute relatively little.

LENGTHENS LIFE SPAN

In the Asian countries advances in health measures have resulted in increasing longevity and decreasing infant mortality—the so-called population explosion. This has occurred at a time when many Asian nations still are reorganizing their economies on 20th-century lines.

What Canada and other countries might have to say that would be helpful in those circumstances was summed up by Dr. Davidson in a message to the conference.

"No nation, no people is so rich that it can afford to ignore completely the need for establishing priorities in the utilization of its resources for meeting the social needs of its people."

Canada already has wrestled with the problem of organizing her economy to make use of 20th-century techniques, and this process continues.

This country also has experience in determining the rate of expansion of social and welfare services and priority for the next step forward. It is this sort of experience that Canadian delegates talked about at the Tokyo conference.

As an example of the sort of problem encountered that particularly interested him, Dr. Davidson said Japan is just now attacking the matter of the place of the aged in society.

Japanese social customs have provided a special concern for the aged which has meant that they were less a problem than in the industrial society. However, as industrialization grows the problem will become more acute and the Japanese showed an awakening concern for the question of old age security.

Another interesting aspect of the conference was the insight given into the field of industrial welfare. In Japan, industry carries a "significant" responsibility for health and welfare services, Dr. Davidson said. This also was found in Canada but not to the same extent.

WORLD BRIEFS

STARTS LONG VOYAGE

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—A movable oil platform, resembling a square floating factory with four chimneys, headed down the English Channel Sunday on a 9,200-mile tow to Borneo. The platform, the first to be built in Britain, will be used in drilling for oil off the Borneo coast.

ATTACK HOSPITAL

CALCUTTA (AP)—A band of Naga rebels attacked a tea estate hospital in Assam and killed two tea workers, reports reaching here Sunday said. Five others were reported injured in the attack Friday.

PERUVIAN RAINS

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Torrential rains continued in the interior provinces of the country Sunday. Bodies of two more flood victims were found, bringing the total for the last two weeks to 30.

MISSION CANCELLED

BERLIN (Reuters)—An exiled Spanish writer who had planned to go to Moscow to persuade Nobel prize winner Boris Pasternak to tour Britain and the United States said Sunday the Soviet Embassy has cancelled his visa. Jose-Luis de Villalonga, who lives in Paris, said Soviet officials also cancelled the Soviet visa of his British wife.

SNTS DEMONSTRATE

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Two thousand Moroccan students demonstrated Saturday for the immediate evacuation from Morocco of U.S., French and Spanish troops. Carrying banners with slogans demanding the departure of "occupation forces," they paraded in front of the American, French and Spanish Embassy buildings.

The most effective color snapshots are those in which a single color or related colors dominate.

Film Studio Sold, Then Rented Back

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How does a big studio get into a tailspin and how does it straighten up and fly right?

The most arresting example of the fluctuations of a film company's fortunes is Universal-International. It was long cited as the smartest studio operation in Hollywood.

Then one day U-I shut down. Hollywood suddenly realized that the studio wasn't in such good shape after all.

Now, after a year in which the studio property was sold and rented back, U-I is perking once again. I asked some of the company officials what happened.

BLAME THE AUTO

"The real cause of our trouble was the automobile," said one of them. "The automobile permitted the explosion of the country's population after the war. Millions of couples now found themselves home owners. They also had more leisure time, but there was more competition for that time."

"Combined with this was the advent of television, which permitted every family to have its private projection room in the parlor."

One survey showed that 30 percent of the population went to the movies more than once a week a few years ago, but only 2½ percent do so today.

TWIN PROBLEMS

With 30 pictures in its backlog, U-I suspended operations. It was faced with these big problems: 1. How to cut down its massive overhead; 2. How to lure talent to create big attractions.

"Since we were obviously going to make fewer pictures, we wouldn't be able to keep a big lot busy," explained vice-president Dave Lipton. "The solution was to sell the studio and rent back the space, just as many big corporations do for office buildings."

With its sales force streamlined and overhead trimmed, U-I could make attractive offers to independents. Kirk Douglas brought his Spartacus epic to the studio. Cary Grant agreed to do Operation Petticoat in return for producer's share of the film. Doris Day's company joined to make Any Way the Wind Blows with Rock Hudson.

Now it appears that U-I has worked out its blueprint for survival.

SALLY'S SALLIES

RETURNS FROM SOVIET CAPTIVITY

"I'm glad to be back," says George S. Milroy, 30, of Ann Arbor, Mich., who was held in an East German jail recently after his arrest by the Communists for taking a picture of a Red tank headquarters. Imprisoned a month, Milroy completed his European tour before returning home. (AP wirephoto)

Red Leader, Macmillan Open Kremlin Talks

By A. I. Goldberg
MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev got down to formal talks in the Kremlin today after a get-acquainted weekend in the country.

Macmillan got second billing in the Moscow press, however. The Communist party organ Pravda devoted top space to an editorial lauding the Red army — which marked its 41st anniversary Sunday — and gave only brief mention to the Khrushchev-Macmillan parley.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd returned to Moscow Sunday night after a weekend as guests of Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev at the rambling one-storey villa 50 miles southeast of Moscow that Joseph Stalin once used.

A spokesman for the two leaders said they discussed subjects of mutual interest in lengthy informal sessions before and after lunch. "The two great men got on very well together," a British source said.

It was assumed West Berlin's future and the issue of German unity were brought up. A British spokesman said the conversations were relaxed. One lasted 75 minutes before lunch, the second two hours.

MIKOYAN PRESENT
With Khrushchev were Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, a recent visitor to the United States, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Jacob Malik, Soviet ambassador to Britain. The British ambassador to Moscow, Sir Patrick Riley, completed the British party.

Macmillan and his party called first at the Kremlin today on the deputy president of the Soviet Union, S. R. Rashidov, who also dark curtains. Also attending is president of the Uzbek republic. President Klementi Voroshilov has been ill.

After today's formal meeting of the two government delegations, Macmillan was to lunch at the British Embassy, visit Moscow State University and be host at the embassy tonight at a dinner for the Soviet leaders.

While Macmillan was with Rashidov, Khrushchev and Mikoyan strolled together across the big Kremlin Square outside the council of ministers. Hardly anyone in a crowd of sightseers recognized the two leaders as they walked to the conference room, talking volubly and muffled in heavy coats.

FACE EACH OTHER
Macmillan and Khrushchev sat first at the Kremlin today on the facing each other at the table in the panelled room hung with Union, S. R. Rashidov, who also dark curtains. Also attending were Lloyd, Reilly, Mikoyan, Gromyko, Malik and Vassily V. Kutnetsov, Soviet deputy foreign minister.

High on the agenda were the tangled problems of Germany and West Berlin. The British and Soviet delegates also were expected to discuss disarmament in an attempt to gain greater understanding of their conflicting policies.

Trade and cultural relations were among other topics for the talks.

Two Doctors Missing on Mercy Flight

BERLIN, N.H. (AP) — Scores of volunteers today ploughed through deep snow on the White Mountains while spotters flew overhead in a search for two doctors missing since Saturday on a 70-mile mercy flight.

Authorities expressed fear for the safety of Dr. Ralph E. Miller, 60, an experienced pilot, and Dr. Robert E. Quinn, 32, both members of the Dartmouth College medical school faculty.

Smallwood to Speak On Loggers' Strike

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Premier Smallwood will use television and radio for the second time in two weeks tonight to speak to the Newfoundland people about the province's loggers' strike.

The 15-minute address over a provincial network is scheduled for 4:45 p. m. MST. Mr. Smallwood has given no indication what he will say.

In his first speech Feb. 12 the premier urged the 20,000 Newfoundland loggers to throw the International Woodworkers of America (IWA) out of the province and organize their own union. He said there was not room enough for his government and the IWA.

Twelve hundred IWA loggers went on strike at the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company Dec. 31 for more money and a shorter work week.

Mr. Smallwood's plans to go to Gander to help in organizing the new union were cancelled suddenly when he said he had business to attend to in the capital.

The opening of the Newfoundland legislature today would seem to doom any immediate trip there. Meanwhile, 17 men arrested after a raid on a western Newfoundland woods camp of Bowater's Newfoundland pulp and Paper Mills Limited were to appear in court at Corner Brook today.

Boy Sentenced To Death by Elders of Tribe

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters) — A three-month-old, aboriginal boy has been sentenced to death by the elders of his mother's tribe because she married a man from another tribe.

Police rescued the boy at gunpoint after his 15-year-old mother, bruised and bleeding, staggered into Oodnadatta, 683 miles north of here, and begged for help.

The boy is being kept at a mission station. The tribe's chief told police the boy will be killed with ceremonial spears if he ever returns.

Dulles Gets Third X-Ray Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles gets his third x-ray treatment for cancer today after a respite during which he had two discussions on world affairs.

While Dulles was talking about the international situation Sunday with Vice President Richard Nixon and later with his brother, Allen W. Dulles, several senators were disagreeing with a suggestion that he resign.

Democratic Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri said he didn't think Dulles could run the state department from a hospital.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem. Minn.) said later "Secretary Dulles is a patriot and I am sure he realizes the essential soundness of the suggestion made by Senator Symington."

But other senators gave Dulles new bipartisan support. Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana, assistant Democratic floor leader, said he regards Dulles as almost indispensable at this time.

Senator Homer Caperton (Re. Ind.) said Symington was carrying partisan politics too far. He called Symington's suggestion cruel and unwarranted.

Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem. Mass.) said it would be unfair to ask Dulles to quit now.

The finest Buick The most spirited Buick The most luxurious Buick

...says so much about your own good taste!

A car is very personal. It tells much about its owner. And this is truer of Buick than any other car. Its long, sweeping lines, accented by a restrained use of chrome, reveal your appreciation of the very best in design.

Its gracious, well planned interior expresses a love of genuine luxury. And the feeling of confidence and control that every Buick driver knows, emphatically demonstrates that this is, indeed, the finest of automobiles. Drive it...

and let your own good taste decide.
